Retailers use marketing tactics that intentionally target youth at the point-of-sale such as placing tobacco products near toys, candy, gum, slushy machines, or ice cream and advertising tobacco where children can easily see the products. Help us support restriction of tobacco sales and POS displays within 1,000 feet of schools.